This is the start of my 10th year teaching. A decade! I began teaching high school mathematics in 2000 and then took a break about 10 years ago to have my son Aiden (picture below). I returned to teaching 6 years ago as a co-teacher in mathematics. I spent the last 4 years in the middle schools co-teaching science and smaller mathematics classes. I have a degree in Secondary Mathematics Education from Bloomsburg University in Pennsylvania.

I am originally from a small town in Pennsylvania, but have lived in Ohio, three different Texas cities El Paso, Little Elm, and Texarkana, and now Georgia. In my free time, I like scrapbooking, reading, movies, and watching the boy play baseball.
